Don Rose to Speak At I. N. A. Meeting

Evening Public Ledger Writer
To Address Students
At Final Banquet

KNOWN FOR POPULAR COLUMN

Don Rose, columnist and editorial writer for the Evening Public Ledger, will be the guest of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association at the final banquet closing its two-day sessions with Ursinus as host, on Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13.

Don Rose will be one of the speakers to address the convention at the closing dinner. He is best known for his daily column, "Stuff and Nonsense," which appears on the editorial page of the Evening Public Ledger. Although primarily a newspaperman, he has wide experience as a public speaker, and his ability in both is outstanding.

The columnist taught school for 14 years before entering newspaper work. In entering journalism, he did not follow the usual path of reporting, copy reading, reviewing, and editorial writing, but secured admittance by what he calls a "back door".

While teaching, he began an eight-page publication, issued every month, which he sent to newspapers, magazines, and critics, and which was called "Stuff and Nonsense". By this method he created his own place in the field of journalism.

Don Rose has recently published two "Stuff and Nonsense Scrap-books" containing his best columns and other writings. Within the next few weeks, a third one will appear.

Local T. K. A. Chapter to Send Delegates to Juniata Conclave

The local branch of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity, will be represented at a regional conference of T. K. A. chapters to be held at Juniata College, on Friday and Saturday, Mar. 29 and 30.

Elections of delegates to the conference will be made at a brief meeting tomorrow noon. The fraternity, at a meeting held today, determined to assess each member 50 cents in order to cover partially the expenses of those journeying to the conclave.

It is expected that representatives will be present from T. K. A. chapters in southern New York, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. This will be the first time within recent years that a conference will be attempted in this district. The program will include debates, informal talks, and after dinner speeches.

The local chapter will probably choose four student delegates—two women and two men—and a faculty advisor.

MUSIC FEATURED AT VESPERS

Vespers services in Bomberger Sunday evening were in charge of Gilbert Bartholomew. The theme of the meeting was music. Poetry and music were the main features of the service.

Bartholomew read several selections of poetry including "Music As Moral Law" by Pluto, "Music As An Element of Pure Happiness" by Cowper, "Music As Touching the Human Heart" by Rogers, "Music As An Education" by Shelley, "Music As An Aid to Religion" by Dryden. Victoria Mollier at the organ played "Awakening" and "Concert Prelude in D Minor".

Editor and Business Manager of Ruby Select Assistants for 1936 Class Annual Production

Beddow Appointed Managing Editor; Six Sophomores Named;
Deen, Spangler, Matthews, in Business Group

The staff of the 1936 Ruby has been elected by the editor, Thomas P. Glassmoyer, and the business manager, Harold N. Holcombe. The custom of choosing members of the junior class, which was established by the 1935 Ruby, has been followed by the class of '36.

Thomas J. Beddow has been appointed managing editor in charge of all write-ups, and will have two assistants in the person of Thomas W. Garrett and Lydia Ganser. The editorial associates selected from next year's senior class are John H. Brown, E. Kermit Harbaugh, Harold E. Jones, Rubin Levin, James E. Reese, Elmer W. J. Schmitt, Montgomery Weidner, Paul Williams, Dora G. Evans, Elizabeth F. Evans, Mildred Gring, Ella C. Humphreys, Sarah Helen Keyser, Alma Ludwig, Wilhelmina Meinhardt, and Dorothea Wieand.

Six assistants from the present sophomore class have so far been appointed. They are: Abe E. Lipkin, Philip Garber, Eugene Shelley, Sieber Pancoast, Kathleen Black, Virginia Fenton, and Jean Ullsh. Others may be chosen later if the need is seen. Alexander Lewis '38, has been appointed as representative from that class.

The chief duties of the persons so far selected will be the producing of write-ups of the seniors and of the various organizations and athletics, although some members of the new staff will be needed as aside in the technical and photographic work on the book.

Harold Holcombe has appointed the following staff to assist him in his duties as business manager: Assistant manager, Robert Deen; Advertising, Gordon Spangler, chairman, Oscar Freas, LeRoy Landis, Robert Krebs, Donald Ohl, Mark Stout, Mildred Peterman, Racheal McAvoy, and Lyndell Reber; Circulation, George Matthews, chairman, Alex Gaumer, Doris Roach, Charles Cubberly, Clifford Calvert, Mary Helen Alspach, Robert Brandaur, Arnold Wynne, and Nancy Pugh.

The chief work of the business department is to secure finances and plan the budget for the publication. The primary aim of this staff is to see that Ursinus students get a good book for their money. If at all possible the sale price of the publication will be lowered. The entire Ruby staff intends to sponsor a dance early next fall in order to secure funds. The senior weekend is also held for this purpose.

The editor and business manager have been busy since the date of their election interviewing various photographers, engravers, and printers, but so far nothing definite in the way of awarding contracts has been done. The contract for photography will be given about the first week in April in time for securing pictures of the Junior Week-end. Other contracts will not be awarded until after the 1935 Ruby has been published.

The photographers interviewed so far include Merin-Baliban, official photographers of the 1935 Ruby, Sarony Studios, and Hollander-Fellman, all of Philadelphia. The engravers are Jahn and Ollier, of Chicago, who are doing the work for the coming Ruby; Philadelphia-Weeks Engraving Co., of Philadelphia; The Canton Engraving Co., of Canton, Ohio; Pontiac Engraving Co., of Chicago; and Phototype Engraving Co., of Philadelphia. The only printer which has been seen as yet is Lyon and Armor, of Philadelphia, which company has done the printing on the Ruby for the past two years.

NEGATIVE MUNITIONS TEAM DEBATES THREE OPPONENTS

Bradford, Beddow, Levin Argue
At Bucknell and Dickinson

The male forensic artists defeated Albright and Dickinson last week, and engaged in three non-decision debates.

The negative team on the munitions question engaged in three intercollegiate contests. On March 4 they traveled to Albright College where they defeated the affirmative team of that institution. Irvin Batdorf delivered the affirmative constructive speech and was cross-examined by Jesse Heiges '35, who also summarized the negative case. Thomas P. Glassmoyer '36, opened the negative case and was grilled by James Doyle, rebuttal speaker for Albright.

On Thursday evening, March 7, Richard Yahraes '38, and Jesse Heiges '35, represented Ursinus against a team from Gettysburg composed of Harold Dunkelberger and John Krumweide. The final encounter was with Western Maryland last Saturday afternoon. Messrs. Danniker and Matthias upheld the affirmative against Douglas Mertz '38, and Thomas P. Glassmoyer, for the negative.

Prof Harvey L. Carter served as chairman at the home debate with Gettysburg and Western Maryland, which were non-decision affairs.

The negative socialized medicine team consisting of Rubin Levin '36, Thomas Beddow '36, and Gene Bradford '36, argued with representatives from Bucknell and Dickinson at Lewisburg and at Carlisle.

At Dickinson, the Ursinus team won a two-one decision given by three judges. The non-decision debate at Bucknell took place before Prof. R. L. Sutherland's class in social pathology. An open forum in which members of the class took part followed the formal argument.

CONFERENCE ON GOVERNMENT TO BE HELD AT HARRISBURG

College Representatives to Act as Model State Legislature

The second meeting of the Intercollegiate conference on Government will be held in Harrisburg, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, April 26-28. All sessions will be held in the Forum of the Department of Public Instruction Building, in the meeting parlors of the Penn Harris Hotel, or in the committee rooms of the Capitol.

This conference, counting among its members more than thirty colleges and universities of Pennsylvania, grew out of the model constitutional convention held by the same group in Harrisburg, April 27-29, 1934. The organization is now a permanent body. Its purpose is to create and stimulate interest and educate the student in practical matters of government.

At this meeting the students will consider themselves to be the model legislature set up under the proposed constitution, meeting as if that constitution were in effect. The legislature will try to be as realistic as possible and will be limited to the consideration of one or two topics of special interest. Six committees will be formed to deal with the bills proposed. No school may have more than one representative on any committee.

To the opening of the make-believe Congress on Friday, Governor Earle, Secretary of the Commonwealth Lawrence, and Attorney General Margiotti have been invited to speak. The model legislature will then continue in session until 1 p. m. Sunday.

A preliminary meeting of representatives to the conference was held in Philadelphia, at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Sunday March 3, at which was given a re-

ANNUAL COLOR DAY PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN IN BOMBERGER

The annual Color Day exercises will be held tonight in Bomberger hall at 6:45 o'clock. This ceremony is held under the auspices of the advisory committee of the W. S. G. A. It is customary that every Ursinus girl be present at this meeting.

Presidents of the Y. W. C. A., and W. S. G. A. will present their respective colors to the freshmen representatives. Virginia Beck will receive the Y. W. C. A. colors; Mary Elizabeth Grounds the W. A. A., and Muriel Brandt the W. S. G. A., while the eight members of the Advisory committee will present the Ursinus colors to the girls of the freshmen class.

Bears Down Lebanon Valley in Last Tilt

Three Seniors Make Final Bow
As Grizzlies Win 50-41

JOHNSON SETS COURT RECORD

The Grizzlies brought their basketball campaign to a close Wednesday night with a 51-40 triumph over Lebanon Valley in the Ursinus gym. The Bears came up strong in the closing minutes of the first half to take the lead and then held it throughout the remainder of the game with uncanny shots from all angles of the court and superb passing.

After Rust had converted his foul try for the opening point, and two field goals had been scored by Patrizio, Ursinus called time out but Barthold broke away at the tap off and scored another bucket for Lebanon Valley which brought their total to seven while the Grizzlies had not yet found the loop.

Captain Johnson, playing his last game under Horse Chase, then swung into action and started ringing up points and in a short time the score stood eleven all. A time out at this point by Lebanon Valley stopped the Bears' spree and the Valleyites sank four more "double counters", brought the total to nineteen, but substitutions for the Grizzlies proved profitable for the homesters and two minutes before the half Ursinus was leading for the first time 20-19. Two fouls was the best the visitors could do for the remainder of the half while the Bears, through Johnson and Heiges, boosted their score to 26.

Barthold's two single markers drew the Valleyites to within five points of the Bears at the opening whistle of the second period but a barrage of buckets by Johnson, Grenawalt, and Costello boosted the Grizzlies so that they held a 36-24 advantage. From this time on Lebanon Valley never seriously threatened and the Bears had everything their own way, giving the subs a chance to participate in the last minutes.

Captain Johnson closed his college basketball career with 22 points, the highest he has achieved on the home court. Other sen-

WESTERN MARYLAND DEBATES URSINUS COED TEAM SATURDAY

"Resolved, that the nations of the world should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions" was the question at issue in a debate between the Ursinus women's team and a mixed team from Western Maryland, Saturday afternoon in Bomberger. Dr. J. Lynn Barnard acted chairman.

The old type of procedure was used, each of the three speakers presenting a constructive speech, followed by a rebuttal by each participant. Ursinus, upholding the negative side of the question was represented by Florence Roberts '37, Thelma Smith '36, and Dorothy Witmer '37. The speakers for the opposition were Genevieve Mann, Gordon Longanecker, and Dorothy Diller. There was no decision.

Chasemen Garner Three Victories

Seven Games Lost by Margin
Of Four Points or Less;
Four Overtime Tilts

JOHNSON SCORES 131 POINTS

The Ursinus Grizzlies closed their campaign in the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference as they opened it, with a victory. However, the games in between were the ones that counted and the Bears lost all of them but one. Seven of the nine games that coach Chase's proteges lost were by margins of four or less points and three times they were nosed out in extra periods.

The pre-campaign game with St. Joe's was also lost but the Philadelphia collegians boasted one of the strongest teams in the East.

In their first games with Gettysburg, Drexel, F. and M., Muhlenberg and their second game with Albright, the Bears led throughout the contest only to lose out in the last minutes of play, and then by slight margins. From this it is easy to understand that, although Ursinus was a "tail-ender" team, the Grizzlies always made it hot for the leaders.

Captain Roy Johnson led his team in scoring for the third consecutive year and in his last game broke all records on the home court by scoring 10 field goals and a brace of fouls for a total of 22 points. The "Moose" might have done better from the field had he not been handicapped by having to match wits with such men as Hoff, of Drexel, MacMillan of the Bullets and "Leggs" Leibensperger of the Mules but as it was he totaled 56 buckets from the field and 19 out of 38 fouls for a total of 131 points.

Calvert and Heiges followed in points scored, with 95 and 73 respectively. Calvert, tall forward for the Bears, played his second season of varsity competition while Heiges, being a sophomore, made his debut this year. Both men will be available.

JUNIOR PLAY PROGRESSING UNDER NEW COACHING SYSTEM

A storm at sea! Fifteen people marooned on a storm-swept island!! A dead man plays a victrola!!! A suicide comes to life!!!! One man murdered twice!!!!

These are a few of the exciting moments that occur in the junior play "Hawk Island" to be presented Saturday night, April 6. Tickets for the production are already selling rapidly and a record audience is expected.

Rehearsals are well under way, every student endeavoring to turn in a perfect interpretation of his role. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald have instituted a new system of coaching under which the play is making progress. Since the cast has an unusual start in working out the play and since the time for perfecting the parts is longer, "Hawk Island" gives promise of being an excellent performance.

The cast for this play includes only two people who have had important roles in previous productions while only two have had small roles.

Editorial Comment

A DESIRABLE INNOVATION

Elsewhere in this issue of the Weekly is described the coming meeting of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government to be held at Harrisburg in April. Let us pause a moment to seek the whence, why, and wherefore of the whole idea.

The study of government, politics, and the social sciences is making a rapid increase generally in the colleges and universities scattered throughout the United States. The trend is toward getting a broad fundamental knowledge of the working of our economic and governmental systems. It is no more reasonable to think that a person can learn to intelligently participate in and thoroughly understand the government of which he is a part only by studying about it, than it is to assume that a farmer can learn his occupation from a volume in a room at the top of the Empire State Building. Practical application is essential: examples must be seen and worked.

Never before, nor in any other country of the world, have the common ordinary laymen had such a large part in the management of public affairs; never has the contact been so close. One of the foundation pillars of democracy is an educated public or electorate. What could be a better way to educate a young citizen in the ways of government, to arouse his interest more fully in that which materially governs his life than a plan such as the Intercollegiate Conference sets forth? What could be a better supplement to a political science course than to help apply what you have learned?

Active participation is necessary for appreciable benefits to be derived. Almost all of the colleges and universities of Pennsylvania have joined. The cost is nominal. Shall we lag behind?

FREE RUBY

Since a great deal of discussion has been created by the problem of compulsory or optional subscription to the Ruby, we believe there is no time like the present for adding our own sentiments to those of others.

We believe it would be both desirable and practicable if the price of the Ruby were added to every student's bills. There are several reasons for our view. First of all, it would put the publication on a firmer financial basis. The budget could be more accurately arranged, more money would be available to make of it a better year book, and a sufficient supply of money is one long step in that direction.

Secondly, we are of the opinion that most students would like to own four of these class books at the completion of their fourth year. This seems impossible to many because of financial difficulties, especially when the total price stares one in the face. But could not this small added expense be readily met if it were divided into four parts, one part being added to each quarterly bill issued by the treasurer's office? Would it make a great deal of difference, even if you are borrowing the money, if your statement read $178.25 or $179.25? We believe not. Further than that the price per copy could probably be reduced very materially.

Sit down by yourself sometime and think about it. Try to project your mind twenty years into the future and see what your decision is. If you do that we feel you cannot help but agree that the extra money was well spent, regardless of how hard it was to get.

FASCISM, SOCIALISM, OR DEMOCRACY?

Seldom does the Weekly express an opinion on national problems. Students will probably be unable to solve the vexing questions of state, if those clothed in authority, years, and—we hope—wisdom, are perplexed. Believing that freedom of the press is still a reality and expecting no revolution to follow our "declaration", we plunge into the maelstrom of national problems. What do students think about them? The day of unrestricted laissez faire has passed. Whatever happens, we shall not return to the old order as such. Progress away from it should be a gradual one, not as rapid a one as the New Deal seems to be. The war on crime, the investigation of the munitions racket, and the search for social reform, however, are valuable contributions that the New Deal has made.

Recovery and reform should proceed at an equal pace. To subordinate either to the virtual neglect of the other would be both inexpedient and unwise in the long run. Excessive spending is of dubious value, and the inflation it might engender would be especially unfortunate for the middle class.

Democracy should be retained if at all possible, although dictatorship may be inescapable. Europe may have its Fascist and Communist ideals, but our democratic principles seem to be nobler and worth fighting to preserve. In any case, socialism is no solution. Man must have self-interest and the profit motive to keep him working and to prevent his becoming lazy.

Above all, we must choose our leaders wisely. After they are once in power, we have scarcely any choice but to follow where they lead.

Personal on Timely Paragraphs Topics

(An important issue has arisen recently and is the cause of much comment about the campus. It has been suggested that the price of the Ruby be included in the student's annual comprehensive fee. This means that every student would receive the Ruby every year, which, although desirable, might or might not be feasible in every case. Many arguments pro and con have been expressed. A few of them follow.)

Russell Fisher '35: To tax each student with the price of a Ruby each year would be an unfortunate mistake. It is not until the junior and senior years that a student has attained an appreciative value of the Ruby. I would be in favor of taxing the juniors and seniors, but it should remain optional for the lower classmen.

Robert Steward '38: The plan of including the fee for the Ruby in the tuition seems advisable in that it would make the Ruby more secure financially without the subscribers themselves feeling this additional tax when added in this manner. Then, also, it would reach every student, thus making the Ruby a very definite part of the school's social makeup.

Jean L. Ulsh '37: I do not think the purchase of the Ruby should be made compulsory by adding its cost to the school bill. This book is primarily a project of the senior class, and while it is a worthwhile possession for lower classmen to have also, the added tax may become a burden to students who are working their way through college.

Elizabeth Ware '38: I think the price of a Ruby should be added to the bill of the student. Everyone would like to own this book and would treasure it, but does not always feel that he can afford it. In this way the Ruby staff could be rewarded for its hard work and its untiring efforts.

Harold Gensler '36: I am in favor of adopting this plan for two reasons. First, it gives the necessary support that an activity of this sort deserves, and secondly, it tends to make this project permanent. It also disguises the dose. It is a bitter payment when paid separately, but is eased a bit when added to a sum already in three figures.

Mary Helen Alspach '36: Although there is something to be said for both sides, on the whole I do not think it would be desirable to add the price of the Ruby to the school payments. Such a proposition, while distinctly advantageous to some, would place an unnecessary expense on those to whom every dollar means something in working their way through school. It seems to me that the Ruby is of such a worthwhile character that students who are at all financially able will purchase one on their own accord.

OMELET SOLILOQUY

To sleep or not to sleep, that is the question;

Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer

The pangs and cries of gnawing, empty gizzard,

Or to leave the soft and restful hay anon,

And seek refreshment at the college board;

To lie abed in peaceful, dreamy slumber

Or brave the wintry blast in search of food.

Let him who would go forth to seek the chow:

To eat the milky, mangled fruit of hens;

To guzzle of the tepid, waking Java, And vainly champ the bounding broiled bread.

Ah, nay, 'tis better far to slumber on

Than rise in quest of these to stoke the maw.

Oh, sleep it is indeed a blessed thing.

We snooze.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

"Hey! Hey! May Day"

The annual Grizzly Gleanings May Day Pageant has been selected and practice will start immediately by the newly chosen characters so that it is in shape for rendition by June 1, according to Alexander Kravitz, manager of the affair. The pageant, entitled "Burlesque of the Grizzly Bear", is written by Augustus P. Johnson, former May Day dancer, and is expected to draw the largest crowd in the history of Ursinus outdoor fetes. The management has ordered 20,000 extra benches for an anticipated overflow audience and will have half a keg of free amber fluid on tap every twenty paces. Mr. Merinsky of the photo studiosky will again be on hand to shoot the whole worksy.

The pageant portrays the historical development of old Zachy Grizzly Bear in the days before May pageants were invented. Instead the colleges used to go in for rodeos, bull fights, and pie-throwing contests; in short, action was the ultimate aim. The writer, in this year's selection, has attempted to render both action and cultural refinement in episodes 1 and 2. Episode 3 is a take-off on the London-Szabo wrestling bout, while episode 4 gives scenes from the lives of Pluto, Good Queen Bess, and St. Dominick of Doylestown. The music in the pageant includes selections from "Lime House Blues", "Hail, Hail", and chants from "Christopher Columbus."

The newly elected May King is German "Toots" Wildonger, who barely nosed out "Tiny Tim" Knoll and "Rough and Ready" Wynkoop in a thrilling contest. The latter two have been chosen as his attendants. Other characters are as follows: Pluto, Wimpy Buttonnose Lauer; Assistant to Pluto, Collie Johnson; Good Queen Bess, Lillian French; Jack the Giant Killer, Booser Brandt; Josephine Beanstalk, Ruth Renneberg; Fe Fi Fo Fum the Giant, I smell the blood of a field goal, Horse Chase; Big Bad Spider, Frank Reynolds; Sleeping Maiden of Sleepy Hollow, Ditty Grounds; Fragile Old Man, Wheezer Harvey; Maiden of Too Many Dates in One Evening, Troup Sipe; Brow Beaten Beetle, Freddie Mueller; Maiden who loves Said Beetle, Ruthie; Ugly Big Elf, Worster; Ugly Little Elf, Fenimore; Jonathan Lovesick; Tworzydlo; Splash Gordon, Spencer Halberstadt; Clarabelle, a Contented Cow, F. Lachman Rinehart; Attendants and Milkmaids to Clarabelle, D. Roach, V. Garrett, D. O'Brien; Sappo, Rudy Risk; Mother Goose, Rae McAvoy; Mother Goose's Stogie, Skippy Reed; The Village Bitcher, H. F. Brian; Ladies-in-waiting for dance bids, South hall.

The elephant dancers, Lauby, Barney, G. Santoro, Foxman, and "Flit of Flounder" Costello, and the bald-headed tap dancers, Lamore, Fisher, Schiele, and the top-sergeant, will meet Nan in the College barn every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock for rehearsal. Jake Boiler House is in charge of the costumes and reports everything to be running smoothly.

The management is dickering for the return of Stewart Rolando Baker, Captain of the string ensemble, to provide music for the super, super colossal epic of a by gone age.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Marlin Brandt, president of the Pull-A-Boner-A-Week Club announces that this week's membership goes to Arnold Wynne. He became eligible as he took Prof. Carter aside after class and asked if the Underground Railroad was really a railroad. Marlin, in an official statement, said, "Anyone who thinks the Underground Railroad was a subway should be president."

Since Libby Ware has been afflicted with a bad case of hives, Jack Davison wants to know "what you do with a girl who has flees". Mr. Davison beat out Rube for runner up to the Pull-A-Boner-A-Week Club.

During the recent debating trip to Dickinson, the Ursinus "tongue scrappers" put up at the Tau Upsilon Omega fraternity house. Upon relating his experiences Rube Levin stated that they spent the night at the O. U. T. house. (Editor's note—all debaters sleep with their mouths open.)

Once upon a time there was an Ursinus College basketball team that won nearly half of its games. But, of course, my children, that was a long time ago.

Christian Organizations Plan For Active Spring Program

Gilbert Bartholomew '35, Y. M. C. A. president, announces that the campus Christian organizations are making plans for an active spring.

On March 27, they will sponsor a held-over meeting from the Week of Prayer, postponed until now by unalterable circumstances. On that evening a Philadelphia priest, the Rev. Mr. Hawkes, will speak in Bomberger hall on "Why I Am a Catholic".

On the week-end immediately after the Easter recess, April 27, 28, the Y. M. and Y. W. Christian Associations will open their third annual All-Ursinus Conference. Plans are as yet incomplete, but the committee which will organize and direct the affairs of this yearly student week-end, has already been announced. On it there are two faculty members, and two members each of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.: Dr. M. C. Bone, Charles George '35, William Evans '35, Wilhelmina Meinhart '36, Dorothy Witmer '37.

This committee is endeavoring to include in the activities of the Conference a faculty debate on some timely topic, a free, student entertainment in the gymnasium, a chapel church service, and the annual installation of Y. officers, who will be elected shortly before or after the Easter recess.

CUB BASKETEERS DROP GAME TO PERKIOMEN PREP, 41-27

Little Grizzlies Tied at Half Time; Otlowski Scores 25 Points

The young Grizzly basketball entourage journeyed up the creek to return Perkiomen School's visit of a fortnight ago, and were rudely repulsed by the Pennsburgers who repulsed the invaders 41-27.

Ursinus started out with a rush and forged into the lead with the frequent scores of Captain Joe Sholl pointing the way. The Perk lads, determined to reverse the previous decision held over them by the Collegevillagers, returned the attack and the game was recessed at 13 all at half-time.

In the second half the Prepsters began anew, and taking advantage of the small floor and the loss of Joe Sholl to the Bears rolled up a lead that insured them the game against the tiring Freshmen.

The entire squad saw action, Coach Swede Paul using all hands in an effort to pull the game out of the fire. Sholl and Emery led the Ursinus scorers with five points each.

F. E. R. A. BOASTS MAXIMUM FEBRUARY PAYROLL OF $794.88

The F. E. R. A. payroll reached a new high in February, $794.88 of the total allocation of $795.00 being earned by fifty-one students, for an average of $15.58 per person. October stands second high with checks amounting to $791.12 being received by those enrolled in the work.

Not only is February's payroll the largest of the year, but the working was more evenly distributed over the twenty-eight days than is usually the case. During the month of January, the hourly rate of pay was increased from 35 cents to 36 cents per hour, which continued through February.

A summary of the payrolls for the school year thus far follows: September, $470.49; October, $791.12; November, $745.41; December, $723.78; January, $780.48; February, $794.88. Thus far the total benefits received by students of the College amount to $4306.36.

FROSH COEDS ARGUE DIVORCE, MARRIAGE LAWS UNIFORMITY

New Plan Intramural Competition Replaces High School Debates

Arguing the question, "Resolved, that marriage and divorce laws should be made uniform in the United States," the freshman girls brought their debating season to a close on Tuesday night.

This year the first year coeds adopted a new policy of intramural competition, in place of the plan previously used of scheduling debates with local high schools. These contests were instituted in order to give each girl interested an opportunity to participate in two debates. They were employed as a preliminary to varsity competition, which those who displayed exceptional ability may now enter.

The season consisted of seven contests on various subjects, which included the failure of democracy, the uniformity of marriage and divorce laws, the location of pre-school age training, and the justification of capital punishment.

Eighteen freshman girls took part in these contests. They were Misses Albert, Ballinger, Basow, Beck, Benner, Benscoter, Collins, Goldberg, Goodman, Harley, Palilonis, Plunkett, Roberts, Roth, Schlaybach, Shaffer, Whitaker, and Wingate. The schedule and instruction was offered by Dora Evans '36, whom the Debating Club last year elected coach of the squad.

In the final contest on the uni-

Mendelssohn's "Athalie" Chosen For Annual Oratorio, June 9

The oratorio, Mendelssohn's "Athalie", has been selected for the regular presentation on Sunday evening prior to the commencement exercises. A large number of students are reporting for the regular series of rehearsals already under way.

"Athalie" is an oratorio of the Mendelssohn type, being scriptural and unique in style. The sections of verse interspersed with the music, and usually read instead of sung, are being set to music by Jeanette Douglas Hartenstine, leader of the performance, so that they can be chanted between the choruses. Miss Hartenstine is also arranging various solo parts.

The oratorio will be presented in Bomberger hall on the evening of Sunday, June 9, by the Ursinus Chorus which consists of the Men's and Women's Glee clubs and the College Choir. There will be both organ and piano accompaniment.

formity of marriage and divorce laws, on Tuesday night, Misses Shaffer, Harley, and Roth upheld the affirmative, while Misses Collins, Plunkett, and Roberts argued the negative. Janet Bardsley '35, a member of the Debating Club, acted as chairman for the occasion.

Keyser, Witmer Chosen to Debate Against Swarthmore

Forensic Club Debates Shipment Of arms at Regular Meet

The main feature of the Women's Debating Club meeting, held Monday evening, at Maples was an old type debate, on the question: "Resolved, that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions." The affirmative members were Florence Roberts '37, and Thelma Smith '33, and the negative side was upheld by Nellie Wright '37, and Sara Ennis '37. The negative side won by a decision of the club members present.

Doris Wilfong '35 took charge of a brief meeting, during which the secretary-treasurer, Mildred Gring '36, gave a financial report.

Dr. White then chose Sara Helen Keyser '36, and Dorothy Witmer '37, to debate at Swarthmore, on Wednesday night, March 13. The question to be debated is: "Resolved, that Pennsylvania should adopt a system of socialized medicine." The debate will be Oregon style.

A freshman at Pittsburg received the following reply from Emily Post as the etiquette of a coed inviting her best boy friend to a dance.

"It is entirely correct providing he is not attending the same school."

Student Activities Council Holds Meet Tuesday Evening

Prof. Lynn Barnard served as chairman pro tempore at the meeting of the Council on Student Activities last Tuesday evening. Bills were ordered paid and committee reports submitted by Mildred Fox '35, and Harry Brian '35. Dates for special meetings were granted various organizations as requested. It was called to the attention of the Council that during the past few weeks several conflicts in meeting schedules were occasioned by the negligence of some groups in registering their events on the secretary's calendar. The Council urged that all activities falling within its jurisdiction be first placed on its calendar, and secondly, that once dates have been granted they should be adhered to strictly.

$100 BALDWIN PRIZE OFFERED FOR CITY GOVERNMENT ESSAY

Economics and Political Science students will be interested to learn that the National Municipal League of New York City is offering once more this year the William H. Baldwin Prize of $100. This prize is awarded annually to the author of the best essay on a subject with municipal government.

The competition, states the announcement made to the college, is open to any undergraduate student registered in a course "offering di-

Men's Glee Club Schedules Nine Concerts for Month of April

Organization to Present Secular, Sacred Programs on Trips

According to announcement by Miss Jeanette Douglas Hartenstine, the Men's Glee Club does not have any concerts scheduled for the month of March, on account of mid-semester examinations. Regular rehearsals are being continued, however, for an extensive program for April.

Nine concerts are scheduled for April, several of which will be given during the Easter recess. Some of the dates are as yet indefinite. This group of performances will be put on in Philadelphia and vicinity, Doylestown and Tamaqua, Mahanoy City and the surrounding region. The Glee Club now has a complete repertoire of sacred and secular numbers, making up and presenting programs wholly of one type or the other. Several of the April programs are entirely sacred and will be presented in churches in afternoon and evening appearances.

rect instruction in municipal government."

Essays may be on any one of 15 subjects, and are to be 5000-10,000 words in length. The closing date for the contest is May 15. For further information, the poster on the bulletin board should be consulted.

Music Club Holds Monthly Meet Tuesday in West Music Studio

Last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the Music Club held its regular monthly meeting in the West Music Studio.

A short business meeting concerning the payment of dues was conducted by the president, Edwin Frey '35. The meeting was then turned over to Ruth Levengood '35 who in turn presented the program for the evening.

Doris Wilfong '35, offered a vocal solo "Just A-Wearying for You" by Carrie Jacobs Bonds, after which Rita Harley '38 played a piano solo entitled "Prelude Dramatique" by the well-known composer, Ketelby. Two popular selections, "When the Bell in the Light House Rings," and "Without a Song" were then sung by Louis Krug '37 which concluded the musical program of the evening.

All members are requested to be present at the next meeting for the election of officers for next year.

Radcliff women will debate M. I. T. men on "Dutch Treat Dates." The girls have been quoted as favoring the practice, but are opposed to it privately. The Tech. boys think it an "evil practice" but confidentially feel it is "pretty good." Which team will uphold the affirmative is not known, but it will in all probability be the—you guess!

WE ASKED LEADERS IN WINTER SPORTS:

"Is this fact important to you?"

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos - Turkish and Domestic - than any other popular brand."

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY

Winston-Salem, North Carolina

FLAVOR! Jack Shea, Olympic Speed Skater: "Camels taste so good that with me Camels get the nod every time. When people mention my being a cigarette smoker, I correct them and say, 'I'm a Camel smoker.'"

ENERGY! "Camel's 'energizing effect' is a great thing for one who is active," says Paul Thompson, of the world-champion Chicago Black Hawks hockey team. "When tired, there's one thing I want—a Camel!"

HEALTHY NERVES! Says Ray Stevens, North American Bob-Sled Champion: "When the last heat has been run, I light a Camel and enjoy it to the full, knowing that Camels never bother my nerves!"

MILDNESS! Betty Chase, expert skater, says: "Camels are so mild and appealing! And smoking Camels steadily never tells on my nerves. To me, it's a very important fact that Camels use finer tobaccos."

VALUE! "I'm just an interested winter sports fan," says Edward Kent. "But I'm with Jack Shea and Ray Stevens when it comes to smoking Camels! I get a lift with a Camel when I'm low and need cheering up, or when I'm tired. And the fact that tobaccos of a choicer quality are used in Camels goes far to explain why Camels are so mild and pleasing, and never jangle my nerves. It means a lot to me that millions more are spent for the tobaccos used in Camels."

CURTIS WINS FOUL SHOOTING IN COMPETITION FOR TROPHY

Trumbore, McLaughlin High Men;
Stine Finishes Second

The result of the basketball foul-shooting contest among the dormitories finds Curtis out front with the highest total of accuracies. Each dorm was represented by five men, who shot 25 balls apiece, for a total of 125 shots per team. Curtis' high score was 80, or an average of 16 baskets made by each man out of 25. Following that, in the order below, Stine had a total of 73 for an individual average of 14.6; Freeland, 72 for a 14.4 average; Day Students 70 for a 14 average; Brodbeck, 60 for a 12 average; and Derr, 59 for a 11.8 average per man.

The best individual performances were given by Trumbore of Stine, and McLaughlin of Freeland, who shared honors with 20 successes out of a possible 25. Close behind were Chak and Gibbel of Curtis who scored 19 and 18 respectively.

With the completion of inter-dorm basketball and foul-shooting, the compilation of points for the seasonal inter-dorm trophy puts Curtis in the lead, with a comfortable total of 25, nine points ahead of their nearest rival, Day Students. The scoring is tabulated in the following manner: ten points are given for first place, seven for second, five for third, three for fourth, two for fifth, and one for last place.

Standing of the teams to date:

Dorm.	f-ball	b-ball	f-s	tot
Curtis	10	5	10	25
Day	3	10	3	16
Derr	7	7	1	15
Brodbeck	5	2 1/2	2	9 1/2
Stine	1 1/2	1	7	9 1/2
Freeland	1 1/2	2 1/2	5	9

Coed Commuters Lead Girls

Inter-Dormitory Conference

The close of another week of girls inter-dorm basketball finds the Day students still on the top rung of the league ladder.

On Wednesday the maids from Glenwood bowed low to the superior force of the coed conference leaders. Day study romped away with the long end of a 21-2 count. Ada Young and Evelyn Markley were scorers for the leading team.

The line-ups: Glenwood—Bauer, Klein, Lyle, Bishop, Lecron, Taylor, Smith. Day—Young, Markley, McAvoy, Brosz, Albert, Witmer, Billet.

On the same day, South fell before the attack of Fircroft, 17-4. Alice Plunkett and Betty Collins scored for Fircroft. Mildred Gring was the entire scoring force for South.

The line-ups: Fircroft—Plunkett, Collins, Missimer, Roberts Bardsley, Wright, South—Trout, Grimm, Gring, Sheffer, Reber, Alspach, Wieand.

The following day, Lynnewood lost a close 12-10 decision to Maples. Anne Colsher and Ellen Schlaybach were the bucket makers for Maples, while Lynnewood's ten points were chalked up to Kay Wood.

The line-ups: Maples—Colsher, Schlaybach, Stover, Stephen, Martin, Harley. Lynnewood—Wood, Leisse, Jones, Bateman, Reese, Olp.

G-BURG WINS LEAGUE CROWN AS URSINUS TIES FOR LAST

A three way tie for the cellar position seems to be the outstanding feature of the Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Basketball Conference. Ursinus, Albright, and Lebanon Valley all stand on a par, each with three victories and nine defeats on their slates.

At the other end of the honor ladder, stands Hen Bream's G-burg Bullets with a single defeat to mar a perfect record. Muhlenberg, who holds second place was the only team who was able to outdo the Battlefield boys. F. and M. and Drexel hold third and fourth places respectively.

The Grizzlies' three victories were scored over Albright in the opening tussle of the season, and Drexel and Lebanon Valley in two of the last games of the season.

How They Stand

Coed Basketeers Beat Moravian, Lose Close Tussle with Beaver

Playing a valiant game, the Beaver basketeers retaliated with a 21-20 victory over the Ursinus team in the clash last Tuesday afternoon on the home court.

Surprised by the aggressive Jenkintown sextet which advanced with an early lead it never relinquished, the locals were forced to bow to the combination they had conquered but a week before.

A miserable first half which ended with a 15-10 advantage for Beaver, found the Snell dribblers missing a number of shots besides exhibiting a general slowness and inaccuracy. This proved to be the ultimate downfall of the maids.

The second half saw the center section in its usual form. The forwards stormed the baskets but the Beaver forwards did likewise for the Snell defense was weakened with the loss of Edna Myers, the Freshman whiz who had suffered an injury.

A delegation of faithful Bear and Beaver fans played a vigorous side-line game when Bups Francis flipped the ball through the iron hoop time and again to bring the score to what might be a deadlock.

With but half a minute to play and a score of 21-20, Beaver's advantage, the Ursinusites made their last attempt, but in vain. They had lost a hard game to their rival team.

Perhaps with greater vigor, the sister teams proceeded with their game and staged their fastest combat of the season. They suffered no loss, yet gained no victory—the game ended in a 23-23 deadlock.

Libby Ware, forward, and also a representative of the "Froshies" accounted for 15 points of her team's total score.

The line-up:

LITTLE GRIZZLIES DEFEATED BY WYOMING SEMINARY, 61-44

Bodley, Vaccaro Lead Cub Scoring;
Connell Has 22 Points

The Frosh quintet drew the curtain on a sorrowful basketball season by losing a free-scoring game to Wyoming Seminary at Kingston, Saturday evening. The score stood against the Cubs 61-44.

The Seminary team, undefeated on their home court in four years, started off in a wild rush. Connell scored at will, making 18 points for the Up-staters in the first half. The substitution of Bodley for Padden, who was injured, boosted the little Bears' score, and the frequent and rapid scoring by both teams kept the crowd in an uproar.

In the second half, Ursinus overcame the height and effective blocking defense of the Seminary, and outscored the boys from the coal-regions. Tomlinson and Bodley each had twelve points, but the belated push of the Freshmen was not enough to cancel the early Wyoming lead.

Day Students Nose Out Derr In Dorm Basketball League

The Day Students culminated their victory march of the past two weeks in a final win over their campus rival, Derr, on Wednesday, and captured the Interdorm title for the second year running. The Champions won the tight race in their last game, 27-25, and though the victory was close and hard-fought, they proved themselves worthy of the name. Bounce Bonkoski was the big gun in the Commuters' attack and his ten points kept Derr on the defense most of the time. Pop Wildonger and Ozzie Rinehart split honors in fighting the cause of Derr.

On Tuesday Curtis dropped Freeland a bit lower on the ladder and made sure of third place for themselves by defeating the Dissectors 26-17.

In the last game, anti-climactic to Wednesday's battle, Derr and Curtis officially closed the season Thursday, with the former triumphing, 23-20.

Final standing of the teams:

Bear Matmen Win One, Tie One, Lose Four in Current Campaign

Glancing back in hasty review of the current wrestling season, the inevitable conclusion is that the Grizzly matmen were not too successful. Only one victory was chalked up by Wieneke's Bears, five defeats, and one tie score. The lone victory came in the first home meet when Johns Hopkins were downed 26-6. The tie came when the grunt and groaners deadlocked the count against the G-burg Bullets at 20 all. Losses were suffered at the hands of Penn, Haverford, Temple, Lafayette, and F. and M. The grapplers amassed 92 1/2 points for the season while their opponents secured a total of 135 1/2.

Near the end of the season injuries took a heavy toll on the squad. In the meet with Temple, Reynold suffered a shoulder injury and was forced to retire for the remainder of the season. Because of a lack of experience, Throne was unable to fill the 118 pound breach. For the second time in his wrestling career Hepner suffered an arm injury when his elbow was dislocated in the Gettysburg meet. Rube Levin and Wilbur Wire also were forced to warm the bench because of injuries sustained in action.

Three positions will be left open by graduation: 135 pound, Turner; 145 pound, Hepner; unlimited, Kravitz. Wilbur Wire, although not a regular on the squad will also be lost by graduation. Captain elect Sam Levin is also completing his fourth year at Ursinus.

Inter-Dorm Wrestling Champs
To Be Determined This Week

The preliminary matches of the Interdorm wrestling tournament will be run off Tuesday evening at 7:45 p. m., in the gym. Each dorm will be represented in the seven classes, ranging from 126 pounds to heavyweight, with a five pound margin fixing the maximum and minimum limit in each class.

Entrees in each class will be posted Monday and weighing-in will be handled at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

In the preliminaries, contestants will draw for their opponent, making three bouts in each class and 21 in all on Tuesday's calendar. Two mats will be used at once in order to run off the eliminations as rapidly as possible. Benny Bassman and Moon Turner will officiate as referees, and Danny Little and Cubberly will hold the stop-watches.

The finals will be contested Wednesday evening, with three wrestlers in each division, second and third place will be wrestled out in the event that the ultimate champion is not in the bye.

Five points will be awarded the winning team toward the trophy, and second and third places will be given three and one points respectively. One point will be given for each fall scored during the entire meet.

able next year.

Costello, sophomore guard, was one of the most dangerous players in the conference. His startling game at guard, coupled with his long shots and fast floor work was one of the main factors in the Ursinus play. Despite his big bulk, "Fats" broke loose for 25 double loopers and sank 19 of his 41 fouls to finish fourth in team scoring with 69 points.

Those playing their last year under coach "Horse" Chase, besides captain Johnson were Fisher, who varied at varsity guard position with Frankie Tworzydlo, and Bud Covert who saw action as both guard and forward.

Snell Coached Team Defeats
Strong Moravian Sextet, 33-27

On Friday afternoon, the coed basketballers of Ursinus won from Moravian by a score of 27-33.

The home team bumped up against a stiffer opponent than they had expected.

At the close of the first half the local lassies emerged with an 8 point lead. Moravian bucked up, however, in the remaining time and gave the Snell girls keen competition by gaining 18 points.

Bups Francis and Sarah Helen Keyser rolled up the score for Ursinus, each being credited with 5 goals.

The line-up:
Moravian pos. Ursinus
Pack forward Francis

Hinkle forward Godshall

COLLEGIATE SPOTLIGHT

President Ogilby of Trinity College considers an enrollment of 500 students 'ideal' for a small college. Reasons: 1. insures smaller classes in junior and senior years, 2. permits individual consideration of student's problems, 3. permits direct contact with professors. (Note, Mr. Editor, here's a subject for an editorial).

Three Lehigh men attempted to ride to school in a sleigh drawn by a nice brown horse. Coming to a snow-free street, "horsie" could pull no more, so the humane men changed places with the horse and pulled the animal.

Pennsylvania is the football state. Everyone of the 48 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania has a football squad.

A professor of psychology at Boston University has banished note-taking in his courses. He declares that note-taking substitutes the hand for the brain, and in the end offers a very poor and incomplete reproduction of the lecture.

Duke students make a pilgrimage every week to raise their spirits. Explanation: North Carolina is dry state so the students go across the line to Virginia to get their supply of beverages.

Statistics published by insurance companies reveal that the world is approximately 85 percent honest. Professor Bye of Syracuse thinks that the average is even higher for he says that cribbing in an examination is mere curiosity to see what your neighbor has on his paper.

The 1935 Polywog of Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute in accordance with a trade agreement with a neighborhood tonsorial parlor offers to accept haircuts in payment for an ad.

They won't help you catch rivets —

they won't cause any ills or cure any ailments

— but they Satisfy

... when anything satisfies it's got to be right... no "ifs" or "buts" about it.

Chesterfields satisfy because, first of all, they're made of the right kinds of mild ripe tobaccos. These tobaccos are thoroughly aged and then blended and cross-blended.

It takes time and it takes money, but whatever it costs in time or money we do it in order to give you a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.
